

Passport of Tales from around the World

A storytelling journey for families and school children

Summary

Jennifer Ramsay (Story Arte) takes us on a storytelling trip around the world to experience the richness of our planet through stories from different cultures.

The stories talk of the importance of cooperation, that we all belong to one big family and for the need to look after our home: planet Earth and all her inhabitants.

At the end of the journey, the travellers can claim their passports with the stamp of Tales from Around the World.
